

Michael Fullerton

Year of Call 1990

Michael was called to the bar in 1990 and his practice covers both the criminal and civil arenas.

In regards to his criminal practice Michael defends in serious cases of fraud, drug trafficking, rape and child pornography. He has also defended clients prosecuted by the Local Authority and the RSPCA.

As to his civil practice he has appeared at the Court of Appeal to test the admission of fresh evidence and has acted in serious personal injury cases arising out of sport, industrial accidents and motor vehicle trauma. Michael's article on the case of Langford was published in the Personal Injury Bar Associations Newsletter last year.

He has also acted in a variety of other commercial and common law actions including clinical negligence and professional negligence.

Notable Cases

Williams v Fisher [1998] CLY 1579, Kemp & Kemp E2-014/2
Miles v McGregor 23rd January 1998
(Court of Appeal Want of Prosecution), Lawtel.
Langford v Hebran & Nynex Cablecomms. Ltd. 15th March 2001
Court of Appeal [2000] PIQR – Lost Chance